10 Best restaurants in Madrid, according to Little Miss Madrid

So, if you're a long-time Madrid dweller, you'll remember the harsh days of the financial crisis which are now (thankfully) a sort of blip on the landscape of Madrid's movida. Business is booming and as a result, the culinary scene in the city now packs more than just a punch. It positively sizzles with the best of Spanish produce and rustic neighbourhood joints that can't be missed.

It's a tough one to call, but I'm not sure what I've done more of since having moved to the land of jamón — eat out, or treat myself at the Zara sale. Either way, I've had a lot of hot dinners and have whittled down my favourites for you to work your way through. A sort of foodie bucket list as it were.

If traditional cuisine is your thing, hopefully I've got you covered. However, as the city lets go of its slightly conservative culinary roots, the patrons of the plazas and the tourists on the terrazas now greedily gobble ramen, cervices and bao buns with as much gusto as the locals love their pinchos. Many to-do lists are a chore, make this one a pleasure.

Here's a round-up of the 10 best restaurants in Madrid. You'll also find my full restaurant review of each one if you click on the link in the titles!

1. Lady Madonna - take a day off the diet

If you're in the mood for a great bit of grub without breaking the bank (and aren't we all?) head to Lady Madonna. Definitely the kind of place where you can dress up for dinner, it's just a stone's throw from Alonso Martínez and a little oasis in the heart of the city. Its charming little terrace is the perfect place to people watch, and the Sunday brunch is pretty damn delish.

Facebook & Instagram: @ladymadonna_restaurante

- Address: Calle Orellana, 6

Metro: Alonso Martínez

• Phone: 915 02 41 82

2. Bosco de Lobos — a casual-chic restaurant in Chueca

Oh how I love this place. Let me count the ways... It's a favourite in the same way as a beloved leather jacket is. Bosco de Lobos is the perfect place for a casual yet chic dining experience. The menu covers every foodie fad but is complete with classics such as arroz and steak tartare. The desserts are to die for, as are the interior vibes — all dim lighting and shelves groaning with books. A must visit.

- Facebook & Instagram: @boscodelobosmadrid

- Address: COAM, Calle de Hortaleza, 63, 28004 Madrid

• Metro: Alonso Martínez, Chueca & Tribunal

• Phone: 915 24 94 64

3. Ana la Santa – baby it's cold outside

Situated on one of the most beautiful plazas in the city, Ana La Santa is housed in the ground floor of the Hotel Me. Beyond cosy in the winter and perennially popular, Ana La Santa always delivers on excellent service and an awesome ambiance.

- Facebook & Instagram: @analasantamadrid

- Address: Plaza Sta. Ana, 14

Metro: Sol/SevillaPhone: 917 01 60 13

4. Bar Tomate — modern minimalism at its best

Somewhat off the typical tourist trial, this is a great neighborhood spot. Chamberí is somewhat of a foodie mecca and Bar Tomate combines minimalist decor at its best and delicious cuisine. The vibe is rustic and the food is fresh. A winning combo if I ever I saw one.

- Facebook & Instagram

- Address: Fernando El Santo, 26

■ Phone: +34 917 023 870

• Metro: Colon

5. Luzi Bombon — get ready to luck out

Situated on the swish and swanky Paseo de la Castella, Luzi Bombon is a stylish restaurant offering flawless service and utterly divine food. It's part of Grupo Tragaluz, meaning you're in safe hands when it comes to enjoying some marvelous munchies.

Facebook & Instagram: @luzibombon
 Address: Paseo de la Castellana 35

Phone: 917 02 27 36Metro: Rubén Darío

6. Somos Restaurant — the jewel in Barceló Torres's crown

Located in what's become the iconic Torre de Barcelona, Somos Restaurant and Garra Bar have become the type of places to splash your hard earned cash. In an undeniably stunning setting overlooking Gran Vía, the outstanding cuisine is not too be missed and neither is the sunset as the sunshine bids the city goodnight.

Facebook & Instagram: @somosgarra

Located in: Barceló Torre de Madrid

Address: Plaza de España, 18

7. Picsa – got a 'pizza' my heart

On one of the hippest streets in Madrid (ok I'm biased, I live here) Picsa serves up delicious Argentinian pizzas that rival any that BA has to offer. The flavour combos are to die for — I never resist the lure of the chorizo criollo with provolone and hey Heber should you.

- Facebook, Website & Instagram: @picsa.madrid

- Address: Calle Ponzano 76

■ Phone: 915 34 10 09

■ Metro: Ríos Rosas or Cuatro Caminos

8. Gracias Padre — you'll be thankful for this Mexican restaurant

In the barrio of Salamanca, Gracias Padre is hands down one of Madrid's best Mexican restaurants. Here'll you'll find treats as tasty as tacos hailing from Tulum. Their frozen margs always hit the spot and the rainbow-esque surroundings are a riot of crayola colour.

- Facebook, Website & Instagram: @gracias.padre

- Address: Calle de José Ortega y Gasset, 55

- Phone: 910 66 00 85

• Metro: Lista

9. Nubel — the Reina Sofia Museum's stunning restaurant

Nubel is the beautiful restaurant housed in the world-famous Reina Sofía museum. It's a hybrid that feels like part restaurant/part nightclub as there's often a DJ playing a delectable mix of club classics that adds to the buzzy energy that envelops you on arrival.

Facebook, Website & Instagram: @nubelmadrid

- Address: Museo Reina Sofía, Calle de Argumosa, 43

• Metro: Atocha

• Phone: 915 30 17 61

10. Picalagartos — dine sky high on a gorgeous rooftop bar overlooking Gran Vía

Picalagartos is quite literally (in the words of the song) up on the roof. Towering above Gran Vía, it's perched atop the NH hotel. It boasts 360-degree views of our beloved city and combines great cocktails with great cuisine.

- Facebook, Website, & Instagram: opicalagartosmad

■ Address: C/ Gran Vía 21

• Metro: Gran Vía

All photos from each restaurant's respective social media accounts

By Cat Powell, aka @littlemissmadrid

Have any favourites that we should include in a second "best restaurants in Madrid" list? Let us know in the comments!

Where to Take Your Mom in Madrid - Round 2

Knowing where to take your mom in Madrid can be tough, especially if she's already visited you five or six times. So here's a follow-up to my first version of this post with some fresh ideas, some favorites, and some recommendations from fellow Naked Madrid writers — and my mom, too, of course. She also helped me edit this whole piece. Thanks ma!

Not to mention these ideas are great for any out-of-town guests. Here goes:

1. Museo del Romanticismo for an intimate art experience

Madrid has several charming museums worth visiting, and if you're like me, you'll appreciate their small size. My mom and I loved Museo de Artes Decorativas and Museo Naval; but we enjoyed Museo del Romanticismo the most. Something about wandering around someone's former mansion makes it unique, and each room tells a different story. Just stay on the grey carpet or the attendant will scold you, like she did my mom when she wanted to take a closer look at the 19th-century furnishings and art! Plus it has a wonderful tea room.

For more ideas, check out Madrid's obvious and not-so-obvious museums (and how to get in for free!)

2. Mad Improv events for fun and laughter

This was such a great discovery. My mom has been to Madrid several times over my ten years of living here, yet we never quite found the right way to spend an evening out that didn't just involve food. Mad Improv is an English-speaking theater group that holds shows (right now on Thursdays at La Escalera de Jacob) and regular workshops and jams at VeraContent (Naked Madrid's sister company).

Jams cost 3€ and include a first drink. Anyone is welcome to get up and join in on improv games, or you can just watch if you're on the shyer side — understandably so, as you'll see some pretty impressive improvisors up there. Either way, you're going to laugh a whole lot. I promise.

Here's a full post on Mad Improv to find out more.

3. Juana la Loca for excellent Spanish food

Juana la Loca is an exceptional family-run restaurant in La Latina, serving Spanish food with lots of fusion and lots of love. Everything you eat here is exquisite, from the pintxos at the bar to the main dishes. I had been several times before I finally got the chance to speak to one of the family members, the son, who explained everything on the menu with such passion. Culinary arts clearly run in the family.

4. Bosco de Lobos and Ana la Santa for cozy and chic dining

I wanted to include a few more restaurants on this list so I asked for recommendations from Cat, one of Naked Madrid's most active writers. With no hesitation at all, she said: "Bosco de Lobos and Ana la Santa are both mum pleasers!" Bosco de Lobos is situated in a beautiful courtyard of an architecture school in Chueca, and its casual-chic look immediately lures you in. Ana la Santa also has a great location, right in Plaza Santa Ana. Cat especially recommends going here when it's cold outside, as it's the perfect place to warm up.

Check out Cat's articles on Bosco de Lobos and Ana la Santa – I'd definitely take her word for it.

5. Chuka for Japanese ramen and gyozas

Once you've had your taste of Spanish food, you shouldn't feel bad about going to an international restaurant. Really, it's okay. Madrid's culinary scene is full of fusion cuisine from all over the world, and Madrileños love it. Chuka is one of our all-time favorites for ramen, gyozas and baos. And we just found out the owners are actually two Americans who have been living in Madrid for over a decade. Go figure!

Here's a full post on Chuka. Another great restaurant nearby is L'Artisan Furansu Kitchen, offering French-Japanese fusion cuisine and a menú del día that changes daily.

6. Salmon Guru for fun cocktails

Before going into Chuka we had a half hour to kill so we walked down the street and got a drink at Salmon Guru. This funky bar has a great cocktail selection and truly unique decor. If we'd stayed a little longer and sampled another round, my mom thinks we might have solved the mystery of what "Salmon Guru" actually means.

Read our full post on Salmon Guru here.

7. Swinton & Grant for when you're working

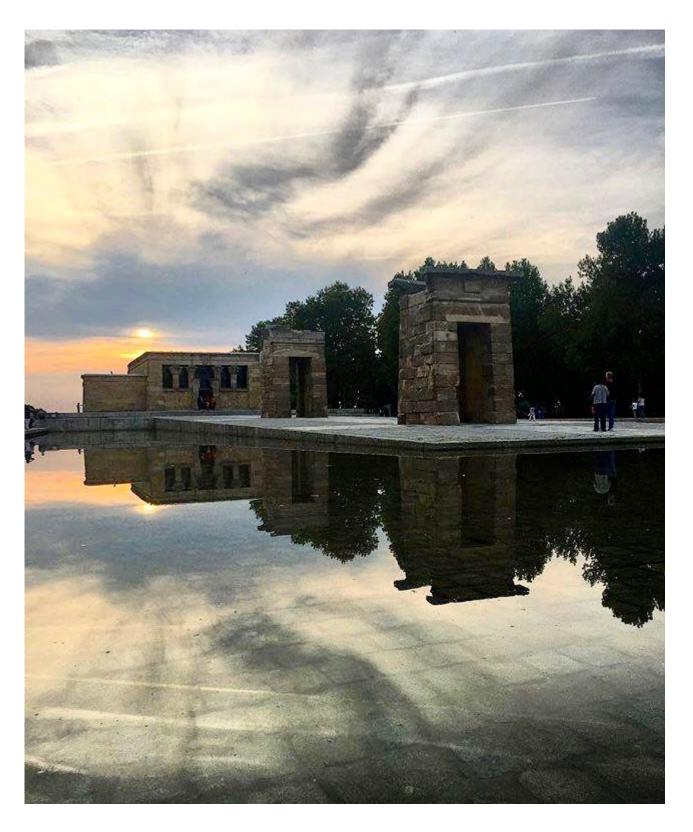

Coffee shops are always great places to park your mom while you're working (or napping). If she hasn't brought her own book with her, she'll surely find something to read at Swinton & Grant — a café that sells art books and also has a downstairs gallery — while enjoying a cortado, a spicy ginger soda, or a beer.

Another one of my mom's favorites, mentioned in the previous article, is Café La Libre, right by the Reina Sofia museum. She couldn't resist going back twice on her most recent visit. And we always make a pit-stop at Desperate Literature to check out their international book selection and delightful event calendar.

8. Templo de Debod for stunning views

This beautiful ancient Egyptian temple is perched on a hill providing breathtaking views of the city, making it the perfect spot to watch the sunset or have a picnic. Templo de Debod is also a great place to walk to after a visit to the Royal Palace or the Cerralbo Museum which are both a hop skip away. You'll find a free-entrance museum inside the temple — one of Mad Improv's organizers, Summer, said her parents loved

9. Casa Pueblo for another cocktail

I've been going to this bar since my first year in Madrid. You can bring anyone here — a date, a friend, a colleague. There's something warm and special about Casa Pueblo that makes me keep coming back. And my mom couldn't agree more. There's also a small stage in the back where they regularly put on live music.

10. The Rastro for a Sunday flea market experience

pic from Madrid No Frills

When I asked for a recommendation from Leah, she said: "My mum absolutely loves the Rastro, of course. She wants to buy everything but can't fit it in her suitcase, but she always manages to squeeze something in like a spoon!"

Leah has been writing about and capturing the Rastro for years on her awesome blog, Madrid No Frills, and instagram accounts @rastrolife and @portaitofmadrid. Here's her latest Rastroinspired post: Seven eccentric museum-worthy collections found only in the Rastro

11. Shopping day in Malasaña — and a mandatory drink afterwards

Mojitos at Cubanismo, a rooftop bar in Malasaña

When it comes to shopping, I like getting it over with in one shot on Calle Fuencarral (which merges with Gran Vía if you want to hit all the big stores like Zara and H&M). Afterwards, there's beer and tapas waiting for you at some of our favorite spots. I recommend going into one of the happening food markets in the area — Mercado de San Ildefonso or Mercado de San Anton — both with great outdoor seating areas.

Another amazing place for a post-shopping drink is El Paracaídas. This multi-story and multi-purpose concept store actually has two rooftops — our favorite is Cubanismo, a tropical rooftop escape!

12. Food tour for insight into Spanish

bar culture and cuisine

Another Naked Madrid writer, Melissa, recently went on the Context Tavernas and Tapas Tour in Barrio de las Letras. Melissa is a true foodie, and works as a full-time writer and translator at VeraContent, where she researches Spanish food on a daily basis. She said the culinary tour was truly insightful, and a wonderful way to better understand the history and nuances behind Spain's delicious cuisine as you enjoy every bite.

Read Melissa's full article on the Context Travel Tours here.

Don't forget to read round one of Where to Take Your Mom in Madrid for more ideas!

You might also like: Take a Peek Inside 5 Historical Madrid Bars

Of course Madrid is full of more options that mothers will love, so please feel free to share in the comments!

Where to Dance Bachata and Salsa in Madrid

Always wanted to learn how to dance bachata but didn't want to pay high costs for private lessons? Well, look no further!

It is muy de moda, or very popular to dance bachata right now in Spain. Each year there seems to be more meet-up groups and more bars offering noches de bachata or noches latinas. Located right by Templo de Debod, The Host offers three bachata classes followed by social dancing every Wednesday night.

For 8 euros you'll have entrance to the bar, access to three classes over the course of two hours and a drink (alcoholic or not) of your choice. You can choose to take all three classes or just one. If you're more of a "people watcher" there are plenty of seats at the bar and around the perimeter of the dance floor. Don't show up too early though because the first class starts when the bar opens at 9PM.

For new dancers, the first question often asked is "Do I need to bring a partner?" You do not need to bring a partner but you can if you'd like! The classes tend to begin with the basics, which everyone dances individually. Then, when you do partner up, the pairs rotate so often that by the end of the class you'll have danced with nearly everyone, you might even remember a few names or have made a new friend by the end of the lesson. On this particular Wednesday, the classes were: modern bachata, Dominican bachata and lastly, sensual bachata.

After the classes end and the students watch or record as the dance instructors model all the steps learned, the social dancing starts! You get the chance to practice what you learned with friends from the class or meet others who are just arriving for the social dancing. The fun doesn't end until 3AM! If you're more interested in salsa, you should join The Host on Thursdays for class (see below). You'll also hear a little bit of salsa and kizomba throughout the night but Wednesdays are specifically for bachata at The Host!

Info

• Address: Calle Ferraz 38

Metro: Argüelles / Ventura Rodriguez / Plaza España

Facebook

Other classes at The Host:

Tuesday: Kizomba (classes 21:00-23:00 and social dancing until 3)

Wednesday: Bachata (classes 21:00- 23:00 and social dancing until 3)

Thursday: Salsa (classes 21:00-23:00 and social dancing until 3)

Friday: Bachata (classes 22:00-@24:00 and social dancing

Facebook pages and groups on Madrid's salsa and bachata scene:

- 1. Salsa Madrid (page)
- 2. Salsa Madrid (group)

Here are some more salsa places to check out:

Azucar:

For 8 euro you can enjoy classes and a drink at Azucar near Metro Atocha. It is a smaller nightclub but brings in dancers of many levels.

Tropical House:

Near Metro Plaza de España is the best place to start dancing salsa or bachata as a beginner. Tropical also offers kizomba lessons on Fridays and Saturdays.

Cats:

On Sundays at Cats (now called Sala Mitty) you can dance salsa and bachata. The crowd is great and there's plenty of room to dance as it doesn't get completely packed.

El Son:

A close walk from Puerta del Sol, El Son offers classes from Monday through Thursday at 6 euro a class.

La Negra Tomasa:

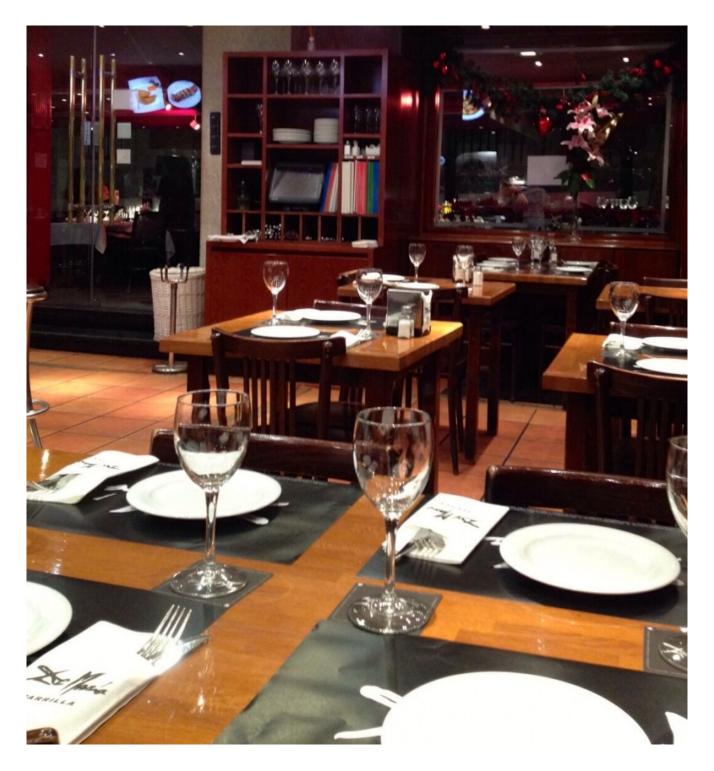

In Sol but doesn't feel like it. Live Cuban music every night and although there isn't a lot of space to dance, if you love salsa music, La Negra Tomasa is a must.

You may also like: Where to get fit in Madrid

De María: Fabulous Argentinian Restaurant

I discovered this fabulous restaurant not too long ago, called De María, as two people recommended it to me on separate occasions. Since then it has become one of my go-to spots in Madrid. De María is one of those restaurants that always leaves a good impression on everyone who dines there; the food is great, portions are generous and the price is fantastic.

De María is popular to say the least; photographs of famous patrons line the walls: athletes like Beckham and actors like Javier Bardem are just some of the familiar faces who have enjoyed this wonderful restaurant.

De María has several locations. So far I've tried three of them and none was disappointing.

The menu is varied and contains good-quality ingredients. You can choose from a variety of mouth-watering starters, such as "chorizo criollo", or vegetable dishes, pastas and salads and, of course, the traditional Argentine beef. The last time I dined here we weren't very hungry so we opted for a lighter menu. Something that stands out to me about De María is that you always get tasty snacks to nibble on while you wait for your food to arrive.

The chimichurri and pepper sauces are a must, as is the cream cheese spread. During the summer they usually bring a glass of gazpacho or salmorejo. When it's cold out, they tend to bring you a creamy vegetable soup — in our case, we got a delicious pumpkin soup.

As a starter, we went for the grilled Provolone cheese. It was simply exquisite and even more when covered with one of their tasty sauces. "Chorizo criollo" is another must.

After the cheese plate, my friend and I ordered salads; she ordered a mixed salad and I had a caprese salad — light, fresh, and deliciously paired with a beer and a glass of white wine.

We decided to skip dessert because we weren't too hungry, but the waiter didn't seem to care: he brought us each a glass of tangerine sorbet and a yogurt and mango sauce (on the house!), along with their traditional shots.

De María's prices are very reasonable. We paid about €21 each. So if you want to enjoy Argentinian cuisine and a friendly atmosphere, this is your place. It also has the advantage of having several locations so finding a table will not be a problem.

The locations I've visited are:

- De María: Calle Hortaleza, 81, 28004, Madrid
- De María: Calle Preciados 32, 28013, Madrid
- De María:Calle Correo 2, 28012, Madrid

You can find all the locations listed on their web

If you want to enjoy more Argentinian restaurants in Madrid, then check out our article on Casa Federica.

Big Food Event at Matadero Madrid!

Calling on all foodies and lovers of design! Mark down September 25-27 in your calendars because you're going to have a whole lot to see and taste. Madrid's Matadero will be celebrating the first edition of BIG FOOD, an event that highlights the relationship between design and gastronomy, thanks to the work of chefs and designs teams of all kinds. You won't to miss this!

Behind this concept is DIMAD (Asociación Diseñadores de Madrid), with its program: di_food (that organizes gastronomy-inspired exhibits, courses, talks and more) and oopen estudio de diseño estratégico.

Here's the event page

#BigFoodMad #BigFood #gastronomia #diseño

Bicycle Festival in El Matadero — "Festibal con B de Bici" with workshops, food trucks and live music!

So, Madrid is starting to become biker-friendly, especially thanks to the city's electric bike scheme. But there's still a long way to go and that's why El Matadero Madrid and Viernes are hosting this cycling festival for the second time on September 19th, called "Festibal con B de Bici." From 11am-9pm, el Matadero will be filled with different free activities to get people excited about cycling — you'll find workshops, roller derby, music and the entire Paseo de la Chopera will be cut off from traffic all morning. Throughout the entire event, there will be food trucks, live concerts and other fun activities!

We're so excited!!

Here's the schedule and link to El Matadero

Cafés Guayacán, an artisanal coffee roaster in Chamberí

Nestled in the heart of Chamberí is Madrid's latest gem, an artisanal coffee roaster offering a wide variety of specialty beans roasted in-house.

As a former barista and bona fide coffee addict, I was excited to see Cafes Guayacán open up in my barrio. My first visit, I was welcomed by owner, roaster and third generation Madrileño, Enrique, who was eager to share his passion for coffee. Guayacán is not a café but a space dedicated to coffee, with tastings, brewing equipment and, of course, coffee beans.

Boasting a wide range of single origin coffee in 125 and 250 gram take home packs Guayacán grinds your beans according to preparation method whether you're using filter, Italiana, French Press or Espresso.

The best thing about Cafés Guayacán is tasting their coffees and talking with Enrique about the ensuing aromas. In house, you can try Enrique's delicately prepared coffees, brewed using the filtration method without milk. With coffee in hand you can talk about favourite tastes, methods and styles. Even if your Spanish level is low, like mine, fear not, Enrique is patient and eager to instill his knowledge and to find out your opinion.

Cafés Guayacán also offers personalised blends, which would make a perfect present for someone serious about coffee. Talk with Enrique about your dream coffee taste then leave it to the maestro to blend and roast away creating a one of a kind taste named after you or your caffeine crazed sweetheart.

It's certainly the best way to get the most out of your home coffee. If you're looking to get started up at home with a coffee maker, Cafes Guayacán also sells a host of accessories from French Press, Filtration systems and Moka Pots (Italiana).

Also check out their delicious artisanal selection of chocolate for sale from Jaen, perfect with an afternoon cuppa

Joe. My personal favourite is chocolate con sal de guerande.

Take home packs of ground coffee range from 4-7 euros depending on size and variety. To try a cup of Guayacán coffee without purchasing a take home pack costs 2 euros.

By Sean McKenzie

Info:

Facebook & Web

Address: Calle Fernández de los Ríos, 26

Metro: Quevedo, Canal Phone: 910 01 36 14

Hours: Monday - Friday: 10am - 2pm, 5pm - 8:30pm. Saturday:

Other Madrid cafes we like:

Coziest cafés in Chamberí

Monkee Coffee, an amazing coffee shop next to Canal Isabel II

The Little Big Café, my big little pick me up

Pepe Botella, a coffee shop where you can think

Toma Café, fuel up, feel hip

Cafelito, a trendy spot for coffee lovers in Lavapiés

La Bicicleta — Ultramodern Cycling Café and Workshop in Malasaña

It was love at first sight for me with La Bicicleta. La Bicileta Café fills a void in a city filled to the brim with bars serving coffee, but sparsely populated with the type of homey workplaces that I hold dear to my heart. There is something comforting about spending hours holed up in a cafe, calmed by the stop and go of an espresso machine. I like to search out spots where I can stake out territory and sit while minutes tick into hours, my fingers hammering at a keyboard or eyes scanning over pages of a book. La Bicileta is one such spot where this is possible and encouraged and might I say, all the rage. It fosters productivity and sociality and the consumption of caffeinated and alcoholic beverages: what could be better?

La Bicileta bustles at pretty much any given hour of the day. While the sun is still out, it functions more or less just as it bills itself: a cycling workplace and café. You will see people perched in the windowsills with their laptop and coffee within equal reach. Cyclists come and go with their bikes. They barge through the front door and head downstairs to where they store or repair their rides. All of this while waiters bustle about with salads and tostas, cañas and coffees. Once the sun goes down, it becomes progressively unlikely to find anyone doing work. The place metamorphosizes into a social hub with so much traffic that the entryway is hardly ever free of spillover customers.

Coffee drinks come in all shapes and sizes. The standards are available, but innocent intentions of ordering a cortado may be redirected upon a glance at the spunkier options on the menu like the oreo frappuccino, for example. As can happen at the Bicicleta, one may feel torn between alcohol and caffeine. Options abound on both listings. The food landscape includes sandwiches, salads, tostas, a [pricey] brunch menu on the weekends, and a display case stocked with baked goods: cookies, cakes, and the like.

As Yogi Berra once said: "Nobody goes there anymore. It's too crowded." Well, not quite. There are still plenty of people at La Bicileta; but Yogi was right, it's definitely crowded. Real estate is hard to come by despite the plethora of sofas, elongated work tables, and quaint table and chair setups available to patrons. While it attracts a determinedly international crowd who may not (probably are not) natives to Madrid, it feels like that good ol' neighborhood joint on the corner.

Info

Facebook Web

Where: Plaza de San Ildefonso 9 (also known as Plaza del Grial o Plaza de la Niña)

Metro: Tribunal, Gran Vía, Noviciado

Just around the corner, you'll find these amazing spots:

Mercado de San Ildefonso - Malasaña's new food palace

Naif: King of Burgers

Greek & Shop in Malasaña

La Paca - the perfect Malasaña café

Aiò - Sardinia, pizza and bike haven in Malasaña

Wine tasting at Bodega de los Reyes

Start your Friday or Saturday night off right with a €10 wine tasting at Bodega de los Reyes! At this friendly bar near Plaza de España, you'll get to taste four different types of wine. Each glass comes with a different pintxo or tapa. It's a great way to start off your night with friends, as it's situated in the center and has a space to fit 28 people.

Make a booking in advance by calling: 91 547 92 13 or 686 22 47 29.

When?

Friday from 7pm

Saturday from 9.30pm

Federal Café Madrid — Hipster in a Very Good Way

Not too long ago, Madrid's breakfast scene was limited to traditional croissants, toast and churros. Now, however, it's rivalling cities like New York and London. How did this happen so quickly? Don't know. But boy are we loving it... One of the best places for brunch in Madrid is Federal Café, which may look like a stylish restaurant in Soho, but it's actually located in Malasaña, near Conde Duque.

Last Sunday, I went for brunch with three lovely ladies — $\underline{\text{Cat}}\,,$ Aifric and $\underline{\text{Helen}}\,.$

We all started with fresh smoothies. Mine had pomegranate and organic apple juice — health in a glass.

To eat, I ordered toast with avocado, poppyseed and lemon.

Aifric got the same, although with poached eggs (smart choice).

Helen had a veggie burger with freshly squeezed orange juice.

Then there's Cat, who wins first prize by a landslide with her full-on plate of poached eggs, bacon, potatoes, sausage and toast. Damn.

The first time I went to Federal was actually over a year ago with my friend, Nina (who's sitting in the window looking at the little kid). We stumbled upon Federal while strolling around and were instantly lured in by the comfy window seats that allowed us to dangle our legs onto the sidewalk.

We started with a coffee.

That ended quickly. The menu featured such a wide variety of dishes that were chock full of local, organic and fresh ingredients — we just couldn't help but order something to eat. I got a sandwich with feta cheese, spinach and olive tapenade. Nina had a burger. Simple but so good!

So if you're looking for a hip place with healthy food in the center of Madrid, I think you've found it!

Info

Web

Facebook

Address: Pl. de las Comendadoras 9

Metro: Noviciado

You may also like:

Best Brunch on a Budget in Madrid

Little Big Café - my little big pick-me-up

Toma Café - Fuel Up, Feel Hip

Mamá Campo - a Restaurant/Market of Organic Delights in Plaza Olavide